CLOSE OF THE MEETING AT BALTIMORE.

THE BAD RECORD OF CANADIAN TURFMEN IN AMERICA-GOSSIP ABOUT YEARLINGS

AND TRAINING. The Pimilco meeting at Baltimore ended yesterday. Reputable turfmen rejoice, and some of them openly declare that if racing cannot exist without the aid of the rabble that made the Baltimore haul down the flags and surrender unconditionally to the outlaws. It has been the boast of certain turfmen that the racing at Baltimore was a good thing, as the officers were so anxious to listen to dians who objected so strenuously to the American flag in Toronto on Thanksgiving Day. The Canucks are a peculiar class. Canadian horsemen are known as the "crocks" of the turf. The running of Cana-dian horses has been a disgrace for years. Some of the Canadian owners have a penchant for flags, especially the starter's flag. It is singular that Canadians manage to obtain important places on Judges at horse shows are frequenty selected from the ranks of the Canadians, their decisions have frequently caused dissatisfac-tion. They despise everything on this side of the border line. Many a disgraceful turf scandal that has taken place on the American turf can be traced directly to a Canadian or to Canadian influence.

E. H. Garrison is in the city. The once famous lockey is in a quandary. He is looking for high class horses for a well-known Western turfman, Garrison says: "I would prefer to be the manager of the stable, but it is so difficult to secure a firstclass trainer that I may be compelled to train the borres myself."

John Kelly and David Gideon hold discussions in be monico's every afternoon about the future of the Reports from California say that the racing is of a much higher class than in former years. There are many newcomers on the turf there, and the number of small stables is so great that the contests are highly interesting and attract large contests are highly interesting and attract large trowds.

There was no business of importance transacted at the meeting of the Jockey Club. The De Lacy collapse was talked about, and plans were made for future action in regard to racing in 1896.

There has been so much talk about yearlings and their trials that the average racegoer takes little stock in the gossip. If trials go for anything, a leashing bay coit, a son of Eolus, is likely to upset the well-laid plans of the men who invariably own Futurity winners, in December and selling-platers in September.

A. L. LIVERMORE'S VICTORY IN A GOLF CONTEST OPEN TO NON-WINNERS.

G. E. ARMSTRONG TAKES SECOND PLACE AFTER GOOD PLAY, HIS SCORE BEING POORER

BY ONLY ONE STROKE.

The tournament for the cup given by Charles E. aid of the rabble that made the Baltimore; Sands brought out a good number of entries at the eting a disgrace to the sport, it is high time to St. Andrews Golf Club yesterday afternoon. The competition was open only to "maidens"—that is, those members who had failed to win first honors in any centest this season.

Arthur L. Livermore, who, while being one of the club's best golfers, has always had singularly bad luck in tournaments, won yesterday with a scratch core of SS. Mr. Livermore holds the amateur rec ord for the course, but he plays better in practice than in competition. G. E. Armstrong was his companion over the course, and finished only one stroke behind him. The golf played by these two was far in advance of that of the others, and was so nearly equal that eight of the holes were halved. At the end of the first round they were 47 and 48, with Armstrong in the lead. For the first hole on the second half both drove powerfully, and Armstrong's second shot, with the brassie, landed the ball "dead" on the green. He missed a putt or two, however, and Livermore halved the hole. In driving for the second, the wind took Livermore's ball over the fence at the right, but he got back on the course in the next stroke. His drive from the third tee was the longest made in the game, for it dropped the ball upon the green, 182 yards away. He made the hole in three. Armstrong's first shot for this hole sent the ball against a tree, whence it rebounded twice to different points on the wall, and finally landed in a favorable position out in the field. A good lofting approach shot, clearing the long bunker, was made by Livermore for the seventh hole. The putting of the two men was not up to the rest of their work.

F. L. V. Hoppin, who has played golf only a short time, was third, with 98, reduced by his handicap of 6 to 92. Each round was made in 49, a proof of the steadiness with which he goes about his work. Percy Chubb did unitsually well for a beginner, by making 166, gross. H. G. Trevor took 166 to cover the course. He is in the front rank at Shinnecock Hills, and has repeatedly lowered the amateur record for that links, but the steep hills of St. Andrew's seemed to play havoc with his scores. No handicap of more than nine points was allowed yesterday. The course was in fine condition, but the putting-greens were much faster than would have been supposed, considering the recent rains. The scores:

TRINITY SCHOOL DEFEATED BY A SCORE OF 25 TO 0.

The interscholastic football championship of New-York City was decided at Berkeley Oval yesterday afternoon. The game was played between the Berkeley and Trinity schools' football elevens, and resulted in an overwhelming victory for the Berkeley boys. The Berkeley team was the favorite, because it had seen as cause it had defeated the strong eleven of Pratt Institute and St. Paul's. The Berkeley lads, however, not only won, but they also surprised their admirers at the great game they played. They not only ran up a big score, but prevented their opponents from making a single point. Handicapped as they were, however, the Trinity players made a coursgeous up-hill fight and contested every inch of the field so thoroughly that the game never lacked in-terest. About 40 people were present when the boys tossed for choice of field. Berkeley won, and boys tossed for choice of field. Berkeley won, and chose the northern end. Jackson kicked off, and Bien fell on the ball. Lively work characterized the game from the start, and by the hottest kind of play the Berkeley players quickly had the ball within a few feet of Trinity's goal. Lefferts was then pushed over the line and the first touchdown was acored. Bayne kicked for goal, but failed. Trinity got the ball on their fifteen-yard line on a fumble, but lost it on a punt. Captain Bayne, of Berkeley made several elever runs, and then Martin scored Herkeley's second touchdown. Bien kicked the goal in good style, and a few minutes after Martin made another touchdown and Bien kicked another goal. Just before time was called Young made still another touchdown for Berkeley, and Bien kicked the third goal. Score—Berkeley, 22: Trinity, 6.

The second half was a repetition of the first, Berkeley doing all the scoring. The seventh and last touchdown was made by Hasbrouck after a clever run of seventy yards. Bien kicked the goal. Final score—Berkeley, 38: Trinity, 6.

COMPANY L. BY 4 TO 0.

It was soldiers' day at Manhattan Field yesterday, when the football teams of Companies I and K, of the 7th Regiment, lined up on the gridleon to Several hundred fight for championship honors. Several hundred stanch friends, including a sprinkling of young women, were present to spur on the gallant soldier boys to heroic plays. The game was hotly contested, and the score was close. There has been much rivalry between the members of the companies and a wide difference of opinion regarding the merits of the footbail teams. The halves played were only fifteen minutes long. The soldier boy kickers, after the game had been in progress a few moments, decided that they could get all the play they wanted in fifteen-minute halves.

Company I won the toss and chose the westerly

Company I won the toss and chose the westerly goal, and Homan kicked off. White, of Company K, secured the bail, and he and Maynard made long runs. Maynard scored a touchdown, but White failed to kick the goal.

At the end of the first half the ball was on Company I's five-yard line. Score—Company K, 4: Company I's five-yard line. Score—Company K, 4: Company I's men struggled so desperately that it looked several times as if the coveted touchdown would be obtained. They had it by fumbles. FIRE CHIEF A. H. RUNGE.

His Restored Health Is Due to Paine's Celery Compound.

What such a man as this has to say can scarcely fall to carry weight with it:

"With the hope that what I say may in some way be brought to the attention of others who, like myself, have suffered without any apparent cause, I feel constrained to recite a brief tale regarding an experience which I trust may never be repeated in my cese.

"A few months ago, owing doubtless to the exacting nature of my dities as head of the fire department, I began to feel a sort of languor and listlessness, to disguise which I was compelled to bring into play all the strength of will I could command. The feeling grew upon me, however, and in a short time it too's such possession of me that it affected my appetite and caused insomnia. I approached my meals with a feeling amounting almost to nausea, and my bed with horror at the restless night which I was almost certialn was before me. Matters became so serious with me that I could no longer keep silent about myself, and speaking off it to one of my friends one day, he suggested that I try Paine's celery compound. I sand to the members of their families, but a macter of much pride and satisfaction to physicians who have charge of such weak, nervous and formerly disheartened patients.

The position of chief of fire department in a big city like Minneapolis, with its acres of valuable building property crossed by numerous railroad lines, and dotted with factories where the fires are never "banked" is one of the utmost responsibility, and can be intrusted only to a man of unquestioned character and ability.

August H. Runge, who has filled this responsible position for several years with so much credit to himself and to the city, was born in New-York in 1852, where he received a commonschool education.

What such a man as this has to say can scarcely fall to carry weight with it:

"With the hope that what I say may in some way be brought to the attention of others who, like myself, have suffered without any apparent cause, I feel constrained to recite a brief tale regarding an experience which I trust may never be repeated in my case.

The people of the Northwest, and in fact the people of the whole country, will hall with profound satisfaction the action of this caucus and your subsequent elevation to the Speakership of this House. They know your ability to preside over the deliberations of this body. They know that you know a quorum when you see it. They know that the principle which underlies the very foundations of republican government—the right of the majority to nile—will be maintained. With faith in your sincerity of purpose, in the courage of your convictions, in your mastership of parliamentary law and in the breadth of your statesmanship—they know that your sole aim will be to serve your country, which is the common country of us a.i. It is with great pleasure that I, on behalf of the Hamilton Club, of Calcago, present this gavel to you.

Mr. Hilborn, representing the HId California

Mr. Hilborn, representing the Hild California District, said that California had also a gavel to present, and he proceeded to make the presentation in a speech in which he said that the gavel was made of oak taken from the old ship Hartford. Farragut's flagship, now undergoing repairs at the Navy Yard in California. He added that the country expected from this Congress, under the guidancevof Speaker Reed, legislation which would bring back prosperity to the land. MR. REED RETURNS THANKS.

Mr. Reed accepted both of the gavels with characteristically appropriate remarks. He

Mr. Foss, I beg to thank most sincerely the Hamilton Club for their beautiful gift which is competed with the remembrance of Alexander Hamilton and Henry Clay, whose services to their country ended with their lives. I can hope to have my name associated with the names of these great and famous men for this passing moment only. And yet, brief as the moment is, it adds greatly to the honor already begioned on me; and I ask you to convey to the Hamilton Club my high sense of the kindness with which they have always treated me.

Replying to Mr. Hilborn, Mr. Reed said:

Replying to Mr. Hilborn, Mr. Reed said:

Mr. Hilborn, I have, as you have seen, been presented with another beautiful emblem of the office which the kindness of this assembly has indicated that I shall occupy. Coming from the central city of this country, a city, if its growth keeps pace with the courage of its people, is likely to reach both oceans. I cannot, however, suppose it is in anticipation of that event that you in the flouristim city of Oakland take this oceasion to give me this memento, which will remind me of one of the erflier years of my life that was spent on the Pacific coast, in which year I learned to appreciate the greatness, present and future, of that I was in an numble capacity once, connected with that branch of the service which has the special right to hold in high remembrance the sweet and screen face and the noble carriage of David Glasgow Farragut and the other heroes whose names a sight of the kirrious old Hartford calls up in every patriotic heart.

, Mr. Hilborn, my sincere thanks of this much appreciated gift. To I must add that I cannot undertake difference of these gentlemen as to CRISP WILL LEAD THE MINORITY. DEMOCRATS GO THROUGH THE FORM OF NOMINAT-ING OFFICERS OF THE HOUSE.

F. Crisp, of Georgia, for Spenker, and in putting him in nomination said:

To-day, without a doubt, a majority of American voters are Democrats, and if the white men of the country alone are estimated there is no question but that our party has a majority of more then a million voters. No true Democrat need then despair nor give up the ship. Our party in the past has laid to sleep in forgotten political graves each party in turn which has contended against it. I have an abiling faith it will yet do the same thing for its present strongest and greatest rival. To do this we must cause the strife to cease within our own family, choose for our leaders such fearless and patriotic Democrats in all the States and districts as I am about to name; inserthe on our banners genuine and time-honored Democratic policies, lay aside all in w-fangled doctribes, and, in the language of the good Book, "Avoid foolish questions and contentions, knowing that they do gender strifes, and are unprofitable and vain"; continue the struggle for reduced taxailon, for cheaper clothing and supplies for our people, for broader and wider and better markets for the products of our fields and manufactures, for economy in our public expenditures, for simplicity in our Government affairs, for real reforms in legislation, for home rule, for an ample circulating medium for our commerce and trade, for sound money, and gold and sliver colonage of the Constitution, and Democracy will be again triumphant. ngain triumphant.
